

MAX PLANCK FOUNDATION

for International Peace and the Rule of Law

The Max Planck Foundation for International Peace and the Rule of Law is looking for

Intern specialising in Public International Law (m/f/d)

(Full-Time: 3 months)

Sri Lanka Project, “Capacity Building for Judges and Lawyers in Sri Lanka” and Maldives Project, “Strengthening the Rule of Law in the Maldives”

At the core of the Max Planck Foundation’s mission stands the provision of technical legal assistance to developing countries, particularly to countries in transition or conflict (see: <http://www.mpfpr.de>). Through legal consulting and legal capacity building activities, the Foundation assists States endeavouring to develop their legal systems and strengthen their institutions. The Foundation also provides legal expertise to responsible institutions and legal professionals with the aim of enabling them to autonomously carry out necessary changes.

In this context, the Sri Lanka-Maldives team is seeking a full-time intern to facilitate the ongoing preparation and drafting of legal texts and materials. Main duties will include: legal research on human rights and legislative drafting, editing and proof-reading legal research, as well as organisation of upcoming workshops.

Our Requirements

- Advanced degree in public international law, preferably with a focus on human rights/legislative drafting
- high level of English-language proficiency
- excellent computer skills (MS Word, Excel und PowerPoint)
- commitment and flexibility
- practical experience and interest in South Asia is desirable

We Offer

- interesting and challenging tasks within an international environment
- the opportunity of gaining an insight into the Foundation’s activities
- a small stipend

The Max Planck Foundation is committed to increasing the number of individuals with disabilities in its workforce and therefore encourages applications from such qualified individuals. The Max Planck Foundation also seeks to advance gender equality and encourages applicants from individuals of all genders.
